

invites you to participate in a virtual conference entitled:

Cannabis Chronicles: A Nurse Practitioner's Story

Shan Mei Young Tai, NP-PHC, MScN

Shan Mei is a Nurse Practitioner, Ayurvedic Practitioner and Medical Cannabis Consultant. She has been a health care provider for over 20 years and has been working in the cannabis space for the last 5 years. Her approach to health is integrative, incorporating multiple modalities with attention to the whole person.

Within the cannabis space, Shan Mei has worked with multiple clinics and LPs, to provide care and education to patients. She has been involved in several start-ups, developing policies and procedures, as well as training new NPs and educators.

Having worked with patients of all ages, with a wide range of health conditions, she has a true passion for education and providing the best guidance for patients as they navigate their medical cannabis journey.

Tuesday, September 20th, 2022 – 5:30 PM MT

During this session, Shan Mei will:

- present an overview of the most common conditions in patients seeking medical cannabis.
- review the authorization process for the prescriber and the patient.
- discuss follow-up care for patients, including adjustment of treatment plans.
- identify barriers to care for patients seeking medical cannabis.
